Camp Meeting—Tuesday's Proceedings Reported in Full.

The morning was rainy, but notwithstanding that, the attendance at the early prayer and social meeting was good.

Elder Van Horn conducted a very interesting youth and children's meeting in the children's tent. A special effort is made to lead the youth who are on the grounds, to give their hearts to God.

Elder Chaffee, of Missouri, who has been laboring this season in West Virginia, reached the encampment Thursday night.

Elder Geo. I. Butler, president of the general conference of Seventh Day Adventists, and Elder D. M. Canright, of Massachusetts, are expected to arrive tonight from Indiana, where they have been attending the state camp-meeting at Logansport.

The presence of these earnest laborers will add largely to the interest of the meeting.

Though the weather for the past few days has been quite unfavorable, nearly every one is enjoying good health. The camp is divided into districts, with several tents in each district, and at eight o'clock every morning a special effort is made to draw near to God and seek the help of his Holy spirit.

At the forenoon preaching service, Elder Van Horn was the speaker. He opened his text Zeph. 1:3: "Gather yourselves together; yea, gather together, O nation not desired."

Seek the Lord all ye meek of the earth, seek righteousness, seek meekness.

The nation referred to in the text refers to God's people, who have never been a desirable people, but have always been oppressed and persecuted.

It is easy to go in the way of destruction, for we can get into the popular current, and be as careless as we please. The gathering here in the text does not mean that God's people should live in one locality, or colonize, but to gather together, in love and harmony, and all speak the same thing.

The same gathering is referred to in Jer. 22:11, and this refers to the close of human probation.

The fierce anger referred to in the text refers to the seven last plagues, which are poured out when probation closes.

The message of mercy to the world, is now going to every nation of the world in the third angel's message, now being given by the adventist people. In Jer. 4:20-25 the day of the Lord is referred to as a day of terror and alarm, a day of darkness and gloominess. This is the day referred to in the text which we are required to prepare for by gathering together.

In Luke 21:34 Christ speaks of the last days, and says we should take heed lest we be overtaken by the day of the Lord. We are to be careful lest we let the cares of life and eating and drinking engross all our time and energies. Our cares should be lessened, and not added to.

No need of spending all our time in making money that we do not need. More time should be spent in seeking God, attending camp meetings and other meetings, that our spiritual strength may be increased. As a snare to the day of God is to come on the world.

Not that the day of the Lord will come as a thief on God's people, but on those who are in darkness, and who are saying, "Peace and safety." These 5:1, 5. "Ye brethren are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief." Here, God's people have the light of prophecy, 1 Peter, 1:12, and therefore know when the day of vengeance is near.

The text further says, "Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth." Matt. 11:28 shows us that we are to be like Jesus. Yes, the meek and lowly in heart, Christ says He is meek, and thus we are to be like Jesus. Yes, the meek and lowly in heart, Christ says He is meek, and thus we are to be like Jesus. Yes, the meek and lowly in heart, Christ says He is meek, and thus we are to be like Jesus.

Not only meekness is needed, but we are to seek righteousness, perfecting holy characters in the fear of God. The world is so full of corruption that it is hard to find any who are truly honest and pure in heart, but sensuality, and crimes of every description abound in the church and world.

The text says further that the meek are to be hid in the day of God's anger. Isa. 26, 20, was read to show what was meant by being hid in that day. God's anger will burn against the wicked inhabitants of earth, but God's people will be hid in the safety of his pavilion.

Commissioners' Meeting.

The county commissioners, at their meeting Monday, let the contract for building a laundry at the Children's Home to O. N. Bartholomew, for $1,135.42. The contractor was directed to enter into bonds for the completion of the work in the sum of $1,000. The commissioners also directed the issue of bonds to the amount of $2,500 for toll roads, and for the further sum of $1,200 for the erection of the Children's Home laundry. The following bills were allowed: David Carter, constructing culvert, $20.50; Wieman & Stafford, hardware, etc., $16.00; Charles Barnett, services as janitor, $20; John Love, services as engineer at court house, $50; O. F. Serviss, services as auditor, $267; Milton Crabill, lumber, etc., Smith Bridge Company, $56.00; J. W. Yeazell, hauling stone, $100.50; O. F. Serviss, placing omitted property on duplicate, $24.11; J. C. Pringle, sheep claim, $55.50; Springfield Publishing Company, blacks, etc., $50.53; J. D. Smith & Co., blacks, etc., $38.75; J. D. Smith & Co., blacks as janitor and bailiff, $58.33; Houston & Bro., stone, $8.33; Wm. Crabill, gravel, etc., $13.40.

Not so Many as They Thought The World Was.

Some amusing stories are told by people other than prohibitionists (and they were probably in the majority) who "took in" the prohibition excursion on Monday. It is alleged that when the train stopped at Xenia and Morrowtown, men wearing prohibition badges (which is not to say, however, that they were prohibitionists, as everybody on the train was supplied with them) jumped off the cars and ran into neighboring saloons. When the train reached Cincinnati the excursionists were met at the depot by a reception committee. One of the committee stepped up to a young man who was wearing a prohibition badge wrong-side-out, and said: "Ain't there another section of this train coming?"

"Another section? No," was the answer. "This is all the prohibitionists in Southern Ohio."

"I thought there would be more than this," said the discomfited committee man.

LAGODA NOTES.

On Monday evening Lone Star Lodge I. O. O. F., of this place, was favored by a visit from a number of Springfield and Ephraim lodges, of the city. A very social and pleasant evening was spent, much eloquence and fraternal interchange indulged in. These visitations are productive of great good, and should occur more frequently. Among the visitors present were Granville Wones, John S. Shewalter, Thomas Collier, John Little, Cyrus Riehl, J. Byram, James Smith, George Metz and Frank Burley.

Mr. Fred Conover and family visited friends at Catawba, on Sabbath, and also attended the wedding of a brother-in-law—Mr. William Clark and Miss Alice Loyd.

Our prohibitionists made a poor turn out on Monday, as we can hear of none that even started for the Queen City, there must be a lack of zeal, or perhaps bode.

Our young people should not forget the meeting of the literary society, on Thursday evening, at the residence of J. W. Reed. The exercises will be entirely voluntary; which gives all a chance to exercise according to their talent and choice.

A Splendid Offer.

Like water, which will always rise to its own level, so talent, sooner or later, will be recognized and reap its own reward.

The presiding genius of a certain Springfield newspaper, whose musical tendencies find vent in the leadership of our opera house orchestra, has, in times past, had several flattering offers to play the violin in more cultured circles than Springfield. But the last offer has been more tempting than any of them. As he was winding his way homeward the other day, a violin case in hand, he was accosted by a colored man with, "Say, boss, what will you charge me for three lessons that evening?" He replied that he was not giving lessons to anyone. "Oh well, I know you can, and I want three lessons anyhow," pleaded the darky. Pleased to have his talent recognized, he replied deprecatingly: "But, my friend, I have not the time; I am in the newspaper business." In deep disgust the kindred spirit answered, "Pshaw, newspaper! What am I newspaper compared to dat'ere house? You come to de stable by de American House, where I works, and give me dem lessons."

An Approaching Wedding.

Invitations were issued this morning for the marriage of Miss Laura Bowman, a favorite society young lady of this city to Mr. William Line Elder, of Indianapolis. The wedding will take place at the Second Presbyterian church on Tuesday, Oct. 20, at 7:30 o'clock. A large reception will follow at the residence of the bride's father, S. A. Bowman, on Fenwick avenue. This will be one of the great social events of the season as the cards, both to the church and the reception were very liberally distributed among a large circle of friends.

A Paper-Hanger Arrested.

C. L. Sudoth, colored, was arrested this morning by officers Norton and Nickles, on a charge of stealing a fur cap and some gloves from Guggenheim's on Limestone street. Sudoth is a paper-hanger, and was engaged at a job at Guggenheim's, and appropriated the property while at work, concealing it in his tool-bag. He was lodged in jail on a charge of petit larceny. On his person was found a sling-shot, and the additional charge was preferred against him of carrying concealed weapons.

Those who place themselves under the care of Dr. Albert, when he visits this city, can rest assured of the fact that their cases will always have his personal attention, and all correspondence receive prompt attention, as well as receive all necessary treatment from the Institute at Cleveland, where his cases require it. This cannot be said of the "traveling doctor," who is always on the go from town to town, without home or headquarters, thereby being unable to know how the patient is progressing. Dr. Albert requires his patients to correspond with him regularly, thereby keeping posted as to their improvement, which is absolutely necessary to the success of any case under medical treatment. 312A.
